Introduction

As an educator, the BBC radio programme Something Understood fascinates me. It was broadcast weekly from 1995 for 24 years early on a Sunday morning and again late on Sunday night. Listening to the programme in the dark at the end of the weekend, thinking about my week ahead as a physics teacher, I often thought I perceived a pedagogy. From the soundscape of the half-hour episodes, new understanding emerged in the darkness.

That perceived pedagogy is the subject of my current, part-time doctoral research project being conducted at the University of Edinburgh under the supervision of Dr. Mike Lynch and Dr. James Lamb.

These files were created from the BBC archive and other places and are shared here in the public interest, for anyone who might be interested.

1 Episodes

Something Understood broadcast weekly from 1995 for 24 years (Chisholm, 2019) before new production was cut by the BBC, although they kept the series running on repeats. At 50 episodes a year, that might make for a catalogue of up to 1,200 programmes but I have only identified 743 so far (BBC, n.d.a, n.d.b; LOFTUS, 2007).

1.1 Acquiring a list of episodes

A list of episodes of Something Understood was obtained from the BBC's Something Understood website (BBC, n.d.b). A database was constructed using a simple csv (comma-separated variable) text-based format which includes episode information and the BBC's unique programme identifier or PID. 639 episodes broadcast since February 2007 are listed and have their own page and PID. A column Plink is derived in the dataset to provide a hyperlink to these programme websites. Links to BBC archive pages for episodes broadcast between 2 October 2005 and 29 March 2009 (BBC, n.d.c) are generated and displayed with (alt.). Data captured from these pages is in the Archive-details column: it comprises more running order than a description of the programme.

Earlier programmes were located in the BBC's Genome project site (BBC, n.d.a) and LOFTUS (2007).

1.2 Cataloguing and describing episodes

Broadcast and production information, along with episode descriptions has been obtained between July and October 2021 for all of the 639 known episodes on the BBC Proramme website (BBC, n.d.b). This process of cataloguing includes cleaning of the data on import escaping text where appropriate. This information has been cross-checked with the BBC's Genome Project (BBC, n.d.a) and the Something Understood Archive pages (BBC, n.d.c). 743 episodes have been identified so far but the exercise is not yet complete (and may never be, I am doing other things at present).

It is possible that there are discrepancies between the production company records and the BBC's index (BBC, n.d.a) but the latter is scraped from OCR¹'d paper copies of The Radio Times with crowd-sourced corrections and additions, as well as more recent programme schedule information. Some manual correction of OCR scanning errors is required, mostly to spelling of names or obvious errors like "I caught a Rsh".

¹OCR = optical character recognition scans

2 Production

After what appears to be a short pilot sequence, the series was originated by Unique, the Production Company (LOFTUS, 2007). It began with daily weekday broadcasts (BBC, n.d.a) for the first six weeks before becoming a weekly broadcast in April 1995 with a new presenter, Mark Tully, in which "Through music, verse, prose and conversation, he probes questions he believes lie at the heart of our humanity." (ibid., 2)

Unique productions was a division of UBC Media, in 2014 becoming 7digital in a merger ("UBC Media Group," n.d.; UBC Media, 2014). Under these two production names, there are 288 episodes.

These graphics show the share of episodes and distribution over time of each of the production companies.

It is interesting to notice, in cataloguing the episodes, that readers of one episode sometimes become presenters of another (e.g. Adjoa Andoh in Changing the Mirror); presenters and producers appear as readers (e.g. John McAndrew and Frank Stirling in Translation) or composers (e.g. Michael Zev Gordon in Impermanence). There are a number of episodes on the BBC website that state the production company without naming a producer, although a producer is listed with the readers (e.g. Frank Stirling in the Unique production The Pearl of Great Price).

Occasional special editions of the programme deviate from the usual approach but follow the familiar format. For example, in A Language That Speaks The Truth, the words of broadcaster Studs Terkel speaking shortly before his death are connected with readings and music known to have been valued by him. In this example, two experienced producers, Eleanor McDowall & Alan Hall created the programme.

3 The Presenters

Sir Mark Tully was the regular presenter of the programme until production was ended in 2019 but there have been other presenters who have contributed a dozen or more episodes over the years.
